A black and white photograph of nine men standing in a row, dressed in formal suits and bow ties. They are positioned in front of a backdrop that features a large, stylized graphic of a person's head and shoulders. The men are standing behind a dark, upholstered bench or railing.

A black and white photograph of a large group of men, likely students and faculty, seated in rows in a classroom or lecture hall. They are dressed in formal attire, including suits and ties. The room has large windows in the background and several framed portraits on the walls.

A black and white photograph of a man in a white shirt and tie, playing a saxophone. He is standing in front of a microphone stand and a sign that reads "Hush SAT. Matinee DANCING 7:00 P.M." The man is smiling and looking towards the camera. The background is a simple wall with a sign and a microphone stand. The floor is dark and reflective. The overall tone is nostalgic and vintage.

A black and white photograph of a jazz band performing. A large bell is suspended above the band. A banner in the background reads "SOX". A banner on the front of the stage also reads "SOX".

A black and white photograph of five young men, likely members of a school choir or club. They are posed in two rows: three standing in the back and two seated in the front. All five are wearing matching light-colored, patterned (possibly plaid or checkered) suit jackets over white shirts and dark neckties. The man on the far left of the back row has a mustache. The man on the far right of the front row is looking slightly to the side. They are positioned in front of a decorative backdrop that features a central arched opening with a curtain, flanked by dark, draped curtains. The overall style is formal and typical of mid-20th-century school photography.
